|-----------|-------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|---------------|
| 1  | 1967        | You know that it would be untrue                                                |             |               |
| 2  | 1977        | Hey you with the pretty face, welcome to the human race                         |             |               |
| 3  | 1978        | We'll get some overhead lifters and four-barrel quads                           |             |               |
| 4  | 1986        | To die by your side, well, the pleasure, the privilege is mine                  |             |               |
| 5  | 1992        | I don't mind, I get the feeling, you'll be fine, I still believe that           |             |               |
| 6  | 1993        | Help me escape this feeling of insecurity                                       |             |               |
| 7  | 1995        | The sun's gonna shine on everything you do                                      |             |               |
| 8  | 1998        | I wonder do my tears of mourning sink beneath the sun?                          |             |               |
| 9  | 1998        | I know what you wanna do and that I feel the same way too                       |             |               |
| 10 | 1999        | We get it on most every night                                                   |             |               |
| 11 | 2006        | And they woke up together not quite realising how                               |             |               |
| 12 | 2008        | Love is a time machine up on the silver screen                                  |             |               |
| 13 | 2010        | Cause they're calling, calling, calling me home, calling, calling, calling home |             |               |
| 14 | 2017        | If you look into the distance, there's a house upon the hill                    |             |               |
| 15 | 2019        | No one's around to judge me, I can't see clearly when you're gone               |             |               |
